

Japan Visa Guide

Citizens of many countries may require a visa before entering Japan. Applicants should verify the latest requirements through official government sources.

Typical requirements include a passport, application form, photograph, travel itinerary, proof of accommodation, and financial documents.

Processing times and requirements vary by nationality.